

Consent for Image Release

Agencies of the Archdiocese of Hobart, including Centacare Evolve Housing and St Joseph Affordable Homes and programs including Build Up Tassie, may want to use various photographs, images, interviews, recordings, testimonials of people for our various publications, including but not limited to, promotional material, social media, newsletters, advertising and website content

These images will usually be used for the purpose of promoting the work we do supporting Tasmanians. We also want to acknowledge that person's contribution to us and the work we do and will ask your explicit permission to use your name in photo captions and video credits. As we require your permission to do this.

If you have signed a photo consent document, you have agreed for the free use of various material recorded of you or your dependent person, as defined to be used by agencies of the Archdiocese, and partners of the Archdiocese in various publications, including but not limited to, promotional material, social media, newsletters, advertising and website content.

In relation to the consent for marketing, please consider that:

- It is not possible to withdraw information from public circulation once it is on the internet. We cannot fully control the use of online images and stories once they are published.
- Once a photo or story is in a brochure, poster or other marketing document it is not possible to withdraw the document from circulation. Where possible, you will be contacted before new printed materials are distributed publicly.
